General Information

- Certain tangible personal property, digital property, and services as listed in N.C. Gen. Stat. § 105-164.13E are exempt from sales and use tax if purchased by a conditional farmer for use by the farmer in the planting, cultivating, harvesting, or curing of farm crops or in the production of dairy products, eggs, or animals.
- Pursuant to N.C. Gen. Stat. § 105-164.28A, the Department may require a person who purchases an item that is exempt from sales and use tax, depending on the status of the purchaser or the intended use of the item, to obtain an exemption certificate number. A person who no longer qualifies for a use-based exemption certificate number must notify the Department within 30 days to cancel the exemption certificate number.
- A conditional farmer exemption certificate is valid for the income tax year in which the certificate is issued and the following two income tax years, provided the person to whom the certificate is issued provides copies of applicable State and federal income tax returns to the Department within 90 days following the end of each income tax year covered by the conditional farmer exemption certificate. The conditional farmer exemption certificate expires after the third income tax year or when a person ceases to engage in farming operations, whichever comes first. A conditional farmer exemption certificate may not be extended or renewed beyond the original three-year period. The Department may not issue a conditional farmer exemption certificate to a person who has had a conditional farmer exemption certificate issued during the prior 15 income tax years.
- A certificate of exemption bearing a conditional farmer exemption certificate number issued by the purchaser authorizes a retailer who sells an item to the holder of the exemption certificate to not collect tax on the sale. A person who no longer qualifies for a conditional farmer exemption certificate must give notice to each retailer that may rely on the exemption certificate on or before the next purchase.
- A person who purchases tangible personal property, digital property, and services under an exemption certificate is liable for any tax due and applicable penalties and interest if the Department determines that the person is not eligible for the exemption or the property was not used as intended by the purchaser. In addition, under the provisions of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 105-236(a)(7), any person who willfully attempts, or who aids or abets any person to attempt, in any manner to evade or defeat any tax imposed by law, or the payment of the tax, is guilty of a Class H felony. For misuse of an exemption certificate by a purchaser, the Department must assess against the purchaser a penalty of $250.00.
