General Instructions for North Carolina Estate Tax Return
North Carolina Department of Revenue

North Carolina Estate Tax

Background: For decedents dying on or after January 1, 2005, and before January 1, 2010, North Carolina estate tax is due on the estate when a federal estate tax would be payable if the federal estate tax was determined without regard to the deduction for state death taxes. The North Carolina estate tax is equal to the state death tax credit that was allowable under section 2011 of the Internal Revenue Code as it existed prior to 2002. The tax is calculated using the State Death Tax Credit Table shown above. The amount of the North Carolina estate tax is limited to the federal estate tax that would be payable if the federal estate tax was computed without regard to the deduction for state death taxes.

Current Law: The North Carolina estate tax is reinstated effective for those decedents dying on or after January 1, 2011, if a federal estate tax return is required. The 2010 Tax Relief Act, which became law December 17, 2010, reinstates the federal estate tax retroactively to January 1, 2010. For decedents dying in 2011, the federal law gives estates the option to elect to apply the estate tax based on a maximum estate tax rate of 35 percent and an exclusion of $5,000,000 (the portability provision provides an exclusion amount of $10,000,000 for married couples) with a stepped-up basis, or pay no estate tax and receive a modified carryover basis in the property passing through the estate. The applicable exclusion amount for estates of decedents dying in 2012 is $5,120,000.

Although there is no North Carolina estate tax return filed for those who died during 2010, North Carolina law conforms to the exclusion amounts and the stepped-up basis for estates that chose to pay federal estate tax.

Filing Requirement -- A North Carolina Estate Tax Return (Form A-101) is required to be filed by the personal representative if a federal estate tax return (Form 706) is required to be filed with the Internal Revenue Service and the decedent was domiciled in North Carolina at death or the decedent owned real property or tangible personal property located in North Carolina. If the decedent was domiciled in North Carolina and all property is located in North Carolina, include copies of pages 1, 2, and 3 of Federal Form 706. If decedent owned property outside of North Carolina or was not domiciled in North Carolina, include a complete copy of Federal Form 706.

When and Where to File -- A North Carolina Estate Tax Return must be filed with the North Carolina Department of Revenue at the same time the federal estate tax return is due which is nine months from the date of death. Form A-101 should be mailed to the North Carolina Department of Revenue, Post Office Box 25000, Raleigh, North Carolina 27640-0100.

IMPORTANT: Copies of pages 1, 2, and 3 of Federal Form 706 must be attached to this return. If the decedent owned real property in another state or was not domiciled in North Carolina, you must attach a complete copy of Federal Form 706 to this return.

Paying the Tax -- Payment should include the tax plus any applicable penalties and interest. Include the name of the estate on the payment. Attach payment to the return and mail to the above address. If a federal extension was requested for paying the estate tax due under IRC Section 6161, attach supporting documentation of the IRS acceptance of the election and fill in the applicable circle on page 1.

The personal representative may elect to make installment payments of North Carolina estate tax in the same manner as elected for federal estate tax payments under section 6166 of the Internal Revenue Code. Acceleration of the federal payments also accelerates the State payments. If the personal representative elects the same North Carolina installment payments, attach supporting documentation of the IRS acceptance of the election and fill in the applicable circle on page 1. The personal representative is liable for the estate tax that is not paid within two years after it was due. This liability is limited to the value of estate assets under the representative's control.

Penalties and Interest -- If the return is not filed by the due date, a late filing penalty of five percent of the tax (maximum 25 percent) is due for each month, or part of a month, the return is late. If the full amount of tax is not paid by the due date, a late payment penalty of ten percent of the unpaid tax is due. Interest accrues from the original due date and continues to accrue until the tax is paid. Contact the Department of Revenue for the current interest rate.

Extensions -- If the North Carolina Estate Tax Return cannot be filed by the due date, an extension of time for filing the return and paying the tax may be granted. A request for an extension must be submitted in writing to the Department (at the above address) on or before the due date of the return. In lieu of requesting an extension, fill in the applicable circle on page 1 of Form A-101 if a federal extension was granted. Interest will accrue on any estate tax not paid by the original due date of the return.

Uniform Valuation -- The personal representative is required to file a copy of the Federal Estate Tax Closing Letter with the Department within six months of receipt. If changes are made to the federal estate tax return by the Internal Revenue Service, the personal representative must report the changes to the State by filing an amended North Carolina Estate Tax Return with a copy of the federal changes. If the amended return and payment of any additional tax due is not received by the Department within six months of receipt of the report of federal changes, a penalty of five percent of the additional tax for each month or part of a month that the return is late (maximum 25 percent) is due.
