Re: Request for Private Letter Ruling

[REDACTED] ([REDACTED])

Dear Ms. [REDACTED]:

We are in receipt of your letter dated May 11, 2011, in which you have requested a private letter ruling regarding the application of North Carolina sales and use tax and mill machinery excise tax on business transactions your client, [REDACTED] (“[REDACTED] LLC”), may have in this State. It is our understanding that [REDACTED] LLC is a [REDACTED] limited liability company that will own, manage and operate a refined coal production facility in North Carolina which will produce refined coal for sale to a North Carolina electric power generation plant for consumption in the generation of electric power.

You ask for a written determination regarding: (1) whether the production of refined coal is manufacturing for purposes of the exemption from sales and use tax provided in G.S. 105-164.13(8) and subject to the privilege tax imposed by G.S. 105-187.51; and (2) whether sales of refined coal by [REDACTED] LLC to a North Carolina power generation plant would be exempt sales of fuel to a manufacturer as provided under G.S. 105-164.13(57).

The refined coal production facility owned, managed, and operated by [REDACTED] LLC “will be located at an electric power generation plant in the State which burns [REDACTED] coal. . . . [the] facility will produce refined coal from raw coal feedstock that it purchases from the utility that owns the electric power generation plant. The refined coal produced by [REDACTED] will then be sold to the utility for its use in the generation of electric power.”

“The [facility] will produce refined coal using a [REDACTED] of Exemption, or other evidence of exemption as your client's authority to exempt sales transactions to such customer.
